You are encouraged to participate in this seminar, as it will help you determine your business's strengths and shortcomings “before” OSHA visits. As you may be aware, OSHA has stepped up their worker safety initiative with a renewed focus on construction.

The question of a visit has change to “WHEN” not “IF”

Have you ever had the good fortune of an OSHA visit?

Is your business prepared for an OSHA inspection?

Are your written programs in place?

Is your training program current?

Are you prepared to communicate with the OSHA Compliance Officer during a site inspection?

Are you comfortable responding to an OSHA citation?
